

Causes and Effects

1. Gina's room had books all over the floor. More books were stacked on her dresser and bed. Her closet was full of books, too. Gina went to the mall and bought a large bookcase because she needed a place to store all of her books.
2. Ella wanted to bake a loaf of bread for dinner, so she looked up a recipe in her cookbook. The recipe said that Ella would need flour to make her bread. Ella looked all over her kitchen, but she did not have any flour. So she called her friend Chad and asked him to bring her some flour from the store.
3. My brother did not play well at his soccer game today. He was sleepy because he stayed up late last night to watch a movie on television. He let three balls fly past him into the goal because he couldn't stop yawning.
4. Darnell's family is on vacation this week, so Kim is taking care of Darnell's cat for him. She has to go to his house every afternoon to feed it. Yesterday, the police came to Darnell's house, too, because Kim accidentally set off the burglar alarm!
