

No Sleep for Luis

One night, Luis found it very difficult to fall asleep. First, the sound of a faucet dripping in his bathroom kept him awake. Next, he closed his bedroom door to shut out the sound of the faucet, but his cat began wailing to be let into the bedroom. Then, he let his cat in, but when he came back to bed, his sheets were ice cold. Finally, he felt his eyes closing, and he was just . . . about . . . to fall . . . asleep . . . when his alarm clock went off with a loud BRRRRRIIIIIINNNNNNG!

How to Clean an Elephant

How do you clean a very dirty elephant? Before you begin, you'll need to get the following things: a hose, a tall ladder, some elephant shampoo, a brush, and lots of towels. The first step is to turn on the hose and rinse the elephant. Then, put the ladder next to the elephant, climb the ladder, and scrub the elephant with shampoo. Next comes the second rinse to get out all the suds. The last step is drying the elephant. And now you're done!
