

How to Make Soap Bubbles

With just a few materials from around your house, you can spend a fun afternoon blowing soap bubbles! Here's how. First, gather your supplies: dishwashing detergent, a tablespoon, a measuring cup, water, a shallow pan, and some pipe cleaners. Then, use the measuring cup to measure out a quart of water into the pan. Once you've measured out the water, add eight tablespoons of detergent. Stir the detergent and water together to make your soap bubble solution. Now, bend a few pipe cleaners into different shapes, such as triangles, circles, and squares. After you've turned your pipe cleaners into bubble blowers, pick one and slowly dip it into your bubble solution. Then, carefully take the pipe cleaner out of the solution and hold it in front of your mouth. Finally, blow gently into the shape to make bubbles!
